

Entry Rules – Young Writers Awards 2008

A teacher in a public or private school must nominate entries for the competition. Home school nominations are also accepted.

Young writers between the ages of 13 and 18 (13, 14, 15, 16, 17 or 18 during school year 2007-08) should submit three copies (1 original and 2 copies) of their best single work in poetry or prose; only one entry per student is permitted. Prose entries may include essays, short stories, reviews, plays, research papers or news articles. There are no length requirements.

Entries should be typed, double-spaced, on 8½ by 11-inch paper and submitted along with this entry form. Please number each page of your submission. Do not place your name on your work of prose or poetry. Your entry will be confidential when distributed to judges. Errors on entry form could result in disqualification. IMPAC-CSUS Young Writers Trust maintains all rights for the written works.
